

- What changes might you want to make to your invention?

20. Be proud of what you have done. You will use the problem-solving and communication skills you have gained here throughout your life and career. Congratulations on what you've done!

Blank Page(s)

These blank pages are available for you to add anything to your Invention Log that will help explain what you did, how you did it, and what the results were. This could include drawings, calculations, descriptions, test results, etc. Multiple copies of this page can be inserted anywhere you want in the Invention Log.